Age Group: Mature, senior
Gender: Neutered Male
Size: Medium (45 – 50 lbs)

Collar, ID: Not wearing his collar but has microchip
Temperament, Demeanor: Shy/timid, afraid strange people & other dogs
How long known/owned : 11 1/2 years

Circumstances (what happened or what is known): Last seen at his home on Huffville Road in Pilot Va. He is an inside dog. I let him outside for a little bit about 12:30 pm and when I looked for him about 2 pm he was nowhere to be found. My son was shooting his gun so he may have been frightened and ran off.

He is shy and may give a low growl when approach by someone he doesn't know. He is afraid of other dogs and will not usually play with strange dogs. He is very loved by his family and we are heartsick that he is not at home with us where he belongs. He has some health issues & is not use to being outside so we need to find him asap. He is overweight and with his age and health problems I don't think he could have wandered very far. He could not get into a vehicle easily by himself; someone has to pick him up.

Outreach (and other) Efforts So Far: I have search in and around my home and the neighbors near by. I have phoned my neighbors and ask them to keep a look out for him. I have also put up a lost dog flyer with a picture at the local store. I will contact the microchip company and place and alert there should he be found as well as this report.

Coat/Hair: black & white, mostly black. Has white feet with black spots. White chest that circles around his neck to almost meet behind his ear.

Other Body Features: Cocker Spaniel type ears and coat, has a long tail (tail was never docked)

Additional Info/Unique Markings: He has a bit of a bulge just behind his front leg (I believe it is on his left side) which is a fatty tumor. He had a skin disorder that left scars where the hair has never grown back completely, but this cannot be seen unless his hair is shaved close.
